

SATURDAY, MAY 26, 1744.

Naples, May 12.

WE have certain Intelligence, that the Austrian Army is in full March for this Country, by the Way of Monte Rotundo; moving in three Columns, under the Command of Prince Lobkowitz. His Majesty is making all the necessary Preparations, in order to go and meet them; so that we take for granted, a decisive Battle must ensue in eight or ten Days Time. The Royal Finances being exceedingly exhausted, the King has found himself under an absolute Necessity of demanding several Free-Gifts from the Nobility of the different Provinces of his Kingdom, who have contributed very cheerfully to his Assistance. The King's Army is very little inferior to that of the Prussians, and much better provided with Artillery and Ammunition. We are almost absolutely free from apprehension of any contagious Distemper, and if we could once expel these German Invaders, we should soon enjoy perfect Peace.

Lisbon, May 25. This Morning the King, our Sovereign, set out for the Hot Bath; by the Use of which, he hoped, he may recover his Health in some Degree. The French Secretary here, has notified to the Court, the King's Master's Declaration of War against Great Britain; and, at the same time, demanded the Privilege of fitting out Privateers in any of the Ports of Portugal; which was positively refused him. Very great Offers have been made to his Majesty on the Part of the Crown of Spain; such as the Cession of some Places of great Importance here, and in the Indies; but his Majesty would not be drawn, at any Rate, into Measures inconsistent with the very strict Alliance that has so long subsisted with the King of Great Britain; as he told the Spanish Ambassador, at his last Audience, in very strong Terms.

Rome, May 16. The Queen, our Sovereign, signed, this Morning a Declaration of War against France; which was soon after made publick. All Ranks of People shew'd an inexpressible Joy upon this Occasion; nothing but Vows of Fidelity to the Queen, and of Revenge against her Enemies. It is generally thought, that the Journey to Presbourg will be laid out this Year, for which many Reasons are assigned; perhaps, the strongest and most important is, saving Expence of it. Two Designs are said to occupy the Court and Ministry; the first is, finding sufficient Funds for the Maintenance of the War, in the Condition it is now in; and the other, the bringing the Emperor to a separate Peace. In case the latter cannot be brought about, it is believed the Ecclesiastical Electors will side openly with the Queen, in order to cover their Dominions from French Invasions. With respect to the Rebellion concerted in Hungary, there are very different Accounts about it; but from a nice Comparison of Circumstances, it seems to have been rather a project form'd, than any Scheme actually carried into Execution. A few Days ago a Foreigner was seized here, who could not give any Account of himself; and in whom, as well as on most of those who were taken up, there were found several Letters in French, and very considerable Sums of Money. As to the Insurrection of the French Prisoners of War, it does appear to have had any Connection with the former Design; but was wholly of their own framing and managing. They had heard that 5000 Small Arms, and a Quantity of Ammunition were deposited in a place not far from that in which they were confined, this induced them to form a Design of surprising the place, and to have endeavoured a Retreat. The Issue of the Plot, has been the confining them closely to Bread and Water, till such Time as an Opportunity offers of bringing them into the Heart of Hungary; where, since breaking out of an open War with France, it is more probable they may spend the rest of their Lives. It is reported here, that the Maritime Powers have made pressing Instances to the Queen, our Sovereign, on Subject of the Army in the Low Countries; which, it seems, is neither so numerous, nor so well provided, as is expected; and it is also reported, that at their Request, 15,000 Regular Troops will be detach'd from the Rhine, to join the Army of the Allies in Ghent. It is likewise said, that Prince Charles of Savoy will make a powerful Diversion, by passing the Alps, and falling immediately into the French Territory. It is very certain, that the Steadiness of the Elector of Cologne has given such Distress to his most Christian Majesty, that he has actually recalled the Count de Sade, who was his Minister at that Court, without naming any other Minister to succeed him. Mr. Vincent is still here, but fees no-body; and it is said, that the sole Occasion of his Stay, is the negotiating a sufficient Sum of Money for the Maintenance of the French Prisoners, in which Affair, however, it is foreseen, that he will meet with many and great Difficulties.

The Troops of the Great Duke of Tuscany, consisting of about 9500 Men, are to join the Austrian Army in Italy immediately, in order to facilitate the Conquest of the Kingdom of Naples.

His Catholic Majesty has ordered 8000 old Troops to march immediately from the Neighbourhood of Barcelona, in order to join the Army of the Infant Don Philip, in the County of Nice.

The Duke de Harcourt, with his Flying Army of near 20,000 Men, is encamp'd, at present, in the Neighbourhood of Mons; but with what View, Time only can discover. In the mean time, the Defection among the French, and especially from their new-raisd Regiments, is incredibly great; notwithstanding his most Christian Majesty has augmented their Pay a Penny per Diem, and granted them several other Indulgencies.

The Books of his Majesty's Fireships the Aena and Scipio, are sent from the Pay Office to Portsmouth, to pay the Wages due to their Companies to the 31st of December, 1743.

His Majesty's Ship the Pearl, lately launch'd at Liverpool, is ordered to be victuall'd and mann'd at that Place, in order for Channel Service.

WESTLEY Mayor.

A Common Council holden in the Chamber of the Guildhall of the City of London, on Thursday the 24th Day of May, 1744, and in the 17th Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord George the Second, King of Great Britain, &c.

UPON Reading the Minutes of the last Court, it appeared this Court did resolve, That it was their Opinion, that Mr. Thomas Hyde, the Senior Bridgemaster, had greatly abused the Trust reposed in him; and that Mr. Thomas Piddington, the other Bridgemaster, should be called in, and reprimanded for Neglect of his Duty, which was accordingly done by his Lordship. Which Resolutions this Court doth now order to be published; and to declare, That the Reason that induced the Court to make this Distinction between the said Bridgemasters, was, because Mr. Piddington alledged in his Excuse, that Mr. Hyde had always taken upon himself to act solely, without advising or consulting with him; which the said Hyde acknowledged to be true.

And it is order'd, That Copies of the said Resolution be Signed by the Town Clerk, and published in some of the Publick Daily Papers.

M A N.

The late vigorous Attempts of the Emissaries of Rome, to diffuse their poisonous Tenets among a free and Protestant People, and that under the happy Government of an illustrious Protestant Prince, must raise in every sober and generous Mind a just Indignation against them, and a tender Compassion to the Weak and Ignorant; who are most exposed to their horrid Delusions. Surely, never did any Thing, that wore the sacred Name of Religion, appear in the World, so monstrously absurd and detestable as Popery, which is the cruellest Merchandise of Men's Lives and Souls, and lies in direct Contradiction to Reason and Revelation, to Morality and Common Sense, and to all the dearest Interests of Civil Society, of Liberty, Conscience, and Eternal Salvation.
